FIREBUG SOUGHT WHEN FIERCE BLAZE FOLLOWS THREATS

or fire, causing an estimated damage of $200, threatening for a time to wreck it, was the statement made to The Times and the police this morning by Mrs. Mary E. Colston, who coneducts a boarding house at 1301 K street northwest.

The blaze, which was discovered among some waste paper in the fur-nace room of the house at 7.28 o'clock last night, spread rapidly through the cellar and ale its way through the floor to the dining room. Mrs. Colston said that had it not been for the prompt arrival of firemen she believes the house would have burned to the Man Made Threats.

"I am certain the fire was of incendiary origin," Mrs. Colston told The Times. "A threat was made last Friday by a man that he would 'get even with me, and that he would fire my house. I believe this man, whose name and address the police have, attempted to make good his threats.
"Shortly before the fire was dis-rovered last night, a man was in the hall. Some of us gave chase, but the intruder ran to the cellar and made his escape. My servants say they did not see anyone, other than employes, in the cellar, but I, as well as others who board at my house, am certain a man ran out of the house. The fire was found a few minutes later.

Nearly Exploded Boiler. "On Priday night, cold water was *Howed to run into the furnace boiler and prompt discovery prevented an explosion. I believe that the same man, whom I suspect of causing the fire last night, turned the water into the boiler believing it would cause the boiler to explode and wreck the ANNAPOLIS, Md., March 12.-The first of the Annapolis bars to go is that of Eulnot's State House Hotel, just across the street from the new home of the Maryland Legislature. All of the stock of this formerly well-patronized booze emporium was moved to Baltimore, it is said, where the owner will engage in the retail or business.

All other saloons are closing out their stocks as fast as they can dis-pose of them. Since the receipt of the order by Navai Academy authori-ties yesterday, declaring a real dry Annapolis, and its fransmission to the civil authorities, Sheriff Joseph H. Beillif, of Anne Arundel county, has issued a proclamation that all liquor stock in the city after 4 o'clock Sat-urday afternoon will be confiscated.

As nothing can be brought into the city after that time, except by hoot-legging and risking a fine of $1,000. many residents have already begun laying in as much as their resources will permit. One of the measures to be employed by the Department of Justice to catch booleggers will be assignment of plain clothes men regularly through the cars which con-zect Annapolis with Baltimore.

Words of high praise for the unselfishness of several hundred women employes of the Bureau of Internal Revenue were apoken by Mrs. William G. McAdoo in an address laug ing the women for their Red Cross activities, at Convention Hall yesterday. Mrs. McAdoo told the women that to her it was an inspiring sight to see them, after their day's work was done, devote themselves to Red Cross work. "I am extremely proud of the Treas-ury auxiliary, of which I have the honor to be the head," she continued, "and, with the aid of my loyal co-workers, numbering 1,000, we have an complished some very notable things." The aparit and achievements of his workers were praised by Danjel C Roper, commissioner of internal revenue. Mrs. C. S. Hamlin also made a phort address, in which she stated that although women could not fight "over there" the could do almost as much in Red Cross work on this side
